

Romans 16

Paul sends greetings and commends the life and service of many brothers and sisters who have helped in the ministry of the gospel.

He urges the believers to watch out for and reject false teachers.

He commends them to God's grace and adds greetings to them from his companions.

And concludes with a benediction including the majesty of the gospel and the glory of God through Jesus Christ.